Such suffering as rheumatism causes the victims upon whom it fastens itself is almost unendurable.

Sufferers from the worst types of this terrible disease will supply the missing horrors in the following story from real life.

Those who writhe under milder forms of rheumatism will be able to imagine the feelings of the tortured victim.

The only justification for making public such heart-rending details is the fact that the lesson taught will be helpful to others, pointing the way to renewed life and health to every sufferer from rheumatism.

The story is told by a woman. Her name is Mrs. Caleb Fenly; she lives in St. Paul, Ind.

This is her account:

This is her account: frequent exposure to the weather caused my terrible attack of rheumatism. Damp weather always aggravated it. The third great lecture of Dr. Greene, of Hall, Boston, was a most important pri-vate discourse to women. Not for years has so powerful, interesting and instructive a lecture been given to woman, a lecture so perfectly and accurately illustrated by stereopticon pictures and wonderful X-Ray effects, so plainly, graphically and com-pletely described, and so forcibly and ably delivered by the learned Doctor, that every woman in the vast audience learned more about herself in an hour and understood herself better than she ever knew or unde stood before.

Particularly was it valuable to the women, and we are obliged to say that they are by far the great majority o womankind, who are ill, out of health, or affering from some of those weaknes debility or diseases which serve to mak

The Poet Laureate's Song.

The British poet laureate in the song printed below strikes a key note that will arcuse asympathetic response in the hearts of all English speaking people on both sides of the Atlantic. We hear it frequently quoted that Russia has been the most friendly nation to the United States, but Russia's acts of friendliness to us were probably prompted by hatred of their herelitary foe, England. That this nation should esteem the tyranous dynasty of Russia more highly than the liberal enlightened government of England is impossible. The future may likely see some sort of formal alliance between all the English speaking peoples of the world, and such an alliance the rest of the entire orld would not date defy. It would be an alliance the rest of the entire orld would not date defy. It would be an annul peace of the world.

Tremont Theatre.

With its charming story, effective situation, wealth of incident, bright dialogue and cleverly-drawn characters. "The Hoosier Doctor," now occupying the stage of the Tremont Theatre, is worthy of rank beside "Alabama" and "In Mizouri," Mr. Augustus Thomas' earlier works, and in some respects it is superior to either of these exceedingly popular works. The romantic and comedy elements are blended with graceful and harmonious charm, and the touches of pathos, introduced here and there with perfect naturainess, gain by contrast with the lighter passages. The humor is plentiful, bright and unforced, and there is no lack of genuine wit. While strong situations abound, there is no appearance of straining for theatric effects; no violence is done to probability, and the climaxes come in natural sequence to the episodes that precede them. The play is not to be classed in the so-called "realistic" school, but at the same time it is as natural in theme, incident and character as a chapter from real life, and is intensely human in every line. In the principal character, Mr. Digby Bell has surpassed the expectations of even his most ardent admirers.

Mr. Bell's engagement at the Tremont admirers.

Mr. Beil's engagement at the Tremont terminates on April's, and on the 11th Mr. Stuart Robson will appear in another new comedy by Augustus Thomas. This work is entitled "The Juckins," and is founded on Opis Read's novel of the same name, which was one of the most widely read stories of last season.

A Sure Something For Nothing. A sure something for boundary.

The only time we are sure that our read ers get something for nothing is when those who are sick or out of health accept the great offer of free consultation by letter of fir. Greene, 34 Temple Place, Boston, Mass., who is beyond doubt the most famous and successful physician in curing disease. You cap write Dr. Greene about your case and he will send you his opinion, advice and fully explain your disease free. If you follow his directions a cure is sure.

T. R. Fitch thought the town ought not to go to any expense in the matter.

Daniel Potter said that 65 per cent, of the appropriations of the fown were in favor of East Braintree. He said there had been enough talk and moved to have a vote at five minutes past nine.

Col. Drinkwater opposed the petition in a long argument showing that the electric railway was an obstruction to the streets, and caused all these expenses.

Charles O. Miller said it was a dangerous place and cited accidents.

Scollard, and he argued strongly in favor of the town's acceptance of it without amendments.

Judge French at once amended by adding, if it should be no expense to the town. And Mr. Kelly and Mr. French had an argument over the effect of this amendment, Mr. French saying that the town should not pay any part of it as it was for the benefit of Weynmouth and other towns.

Mr. Kelly saying that the amendment would kill the petition.

Albert E. Avery made a strong plea in favor of the widening stating that it would not cost the town over $2500 instead of $5000 or $8000 as the opposition had stated.

Dr. T. H. Dearing spoke in favor of the petition saying he drove by there three onew if tidd not cost the town over $200.

The last five minutes was occupied by Mr. Scollard in a masterly summing up of the arguments and in a strong plea for the vote offered by Mr. Kelley. He withdrew his motion as being buried in amendments and defined clearly the effect of Judge Wessaguset Club Entertain Fair Sex.

The thirtieth of March has come and gone and the annual party of the Wessagusset Club is but a happy memory in the lives of those favored mortals who were present.

Perhaps to any one unacquainted with the history of this organization this report may appear a trille flowery and exaggerated but to the initiated it is merely a recital of facts solid and undisputable.

It was not so many years ago that the Wessagusset Club was composed of a small number of young men inexperienced in the ways of the world, with little or no financial support and as for the social side of the question we doubt if dances ever resolved themselves into anything more substantial than dreams.

Easton of Worce-ter, John E. Mann, Presmon Lewis and M. E. Hawes of East Weymorth.

When the guests had been received and formalities gone through with Mr. Easton invited the party to an inspection of his most valuable collection of mineras. Metais, fossils and currosities gathered from ail parts of the world, and by the way, it is safe to say this is the most valuable collection in town and probably the most valuable private collection in the state.

Mr. Easton has made a thorough study of the earth's formation, also of the animal and vegetable kingdom and on this occasion gave an hour's talk on his researches into the wonders of creation. Every one was an intent listener and each and all at the close of the hour found himself possessed of a new and additional fund of knowledge.

At the conclusion of the lecture the party repaired to the rooms below where the physical man was fed even more bountifully than the intellectual had been fed in the museum above. Bates and Humphrey were catterers and the several courses were of a first class order, reflecting credit on all parties concerned.

Games, songs and anecdotes followed the banquet and the whole event is summed up in a letter received by Mr. Easton from one of the guests.

"We were captured not by the battle-ax nor spear but by the kindness and generosity that has eminated from the great heart of our Douglas."

The success of the season of opera by the Boston Lyric Company assumed the character of a veritable triumph on the opening night last Monday at the Grand Opera House. The enthusiasm character izing the reception accorded the old fa-vorites of the lovingly remembered season at the Castle Square was fairly soul stirring and its almost unprecedented warmth brought tears to the eyes of every member of the company. "Dorothy" has never been more delightfully given in Boston. The stage settings were beautiful, and in some particulars, realistic. At popular prices and with such famous artists as Clara Lane, Hattie Belle Ladd, Adelaide Norwood, Hattie Arnold, J. K. Murray, Richie Ling, W. H. Clarke and Milton Aborn, it is not to be wondered at that this season of opera has been received with in Weymouth, the last publication to be one least before said court. The old time popularity of William Gil-lette's dramatic version of Frances Hodg-son Burnett's story "Esmeralda" will make the production of this play at the Castle Square Theatre next week an attractive event. The original production of "Es-meralda" was one of the great successes of the old Madison Square Theatre in New York where it held the stage an entire year about twenty years ago. Its story deals with the experiences of Planter Rogers, of North Carolina, whose sudden prosperity brings about domestic difficulties which are, however, dispelled and the family re-united in the final scene of the play. General Court Has Finished Its Third Month.

Three Big Contests Thus Far-Sessions Will Now Be Longer-Cigaret Bill Passes House-Copley Square, Etc.

From Our Correspondent.
The general court has finished the third month of its labors, and begins to feel that it knows itself pretty well, and knows something of the task it has on hand. It has thus far had but two or three big contests, one of them being on three big contests, one of them being of whether it should pay $2000 to a man named Smith, who was injured by assisting an officer in making an arrest in Ipswich, after having been called upon in the name of the commonwealth; another on the Boston and Maine stock where said a blief as the way in which may be a stock of the committee, to provide for the use of some of the immates of Concord reformatory in clear-mates of Concord reformatory in clear-mates of Concord reformatory in clearissue, and a third on the way in which gas should be investigated. From now on the legislative sessions will be longer and the matters of debate will increas n number. The house surprised itself a few days The house surprised itself a few days since by passing to be engrossed a bill to prevent the manufacture and sale of cigarets. The efforts of the committee on public health to find out what influence was behind the movement to pass unfriendly cigaret legislation have aiready been sketched in this column, and at the time the committee reported adversely there seemed to be no doubt whatever that the end of the controversy had been reached for this year. But Mr. Beede of Lynn took the matter in hand, and started out on a still hunt to pass the bill. He did not lay matter in nand, and started out on a soin hunt to pass the bill. He did not lay out a big debate, but went here and there among the members and one quiet afternoon moved to substitute a bill for the adverse report of the committee.

The motion prevailed without debate of The motion prevailed without debate of any consequence. A few days later the matter was reached, and the bill was given a second reading, again without debate. Then the audacious Lynn member moved to suspend the rule and pass the bill to be engrossed, and that motion also prevailed without debate. Had such action been taken in the senate, no-body would have been surprised, but in the house, where 240 men have severally the right to talk, if they feel like it, and where E. B. callender of Boston and W. H. J. Hayes of Lowell are ready to oppose such legislation, it was strange enough. A day later Mr. Hayes moved a reconsideration, on the ground that there was a very small attendance at the hour of engrossment, but with a full house the vote to refuse reconsideration was too emphatic to question. tion was too emphatic to question.

The matter of limiting the height of buildings in Copley square, Boston, seemed to be a local one up to the time seemed to be a local one up to the time when the committee on cities decided upon a report. There were a number of bills in the committee relating to the subject, one of them limiting the height of buildings abutting on the square to 70 feet, and another to 90 feet. There was also one to limit the height of buildings all over the city to 100 feet. After many hearings, some of them in the evening, and numerous perplexing conferences with counsel, the committee determined to report a general bill, limiting the height of all buildings in the commonwealth, excepting those on land belonging to the United States, grain elevators, chimneys, spires, etc., to 100 feet. Roofs, domes, towers, and other ornamental features may be permitted to reach above that line, provided that they are approved by city coun-person by ordinance delegated to decide back the regular petitions and bills referring specially to Copley square to find what reception was accorded to the Of course, everybody in New Eng-land who ever visits Boston is interested in having the beauty of Copley square preserved, and the general opinion preserved, and the general opinion seems to be that 10-story buildings will not beautify it; but it so happens that the fine Westministers chambers, facing on the same avenue as Trinity church, and across a narrow street from it, had already been given a building permit to go 125 feet above the side-walk before any legislation was asked. As a natural consequence, the question of damages was raised when the bills were heard. The damage might be something of an exemplary nature, to cover possible loss, and teach Boston to go slow in granting building permits on public squares, or it might simply cover the loss on material which had been contracted for, but which could not be used above the height of 100 feet. In the hearings the question of whether there were proprietary rights in the atmosphere as far above one's house lot as 125 feet were discussed at some length, and the question whether the law of 1396, which prevented the erection of buildings over 70 feet in height on parkways was lendentally referred. seems to be that 10-story buildings will tion of buildings over 10 feet in height on parkways, was incidentally referred to. It was almost laughed out of court, on the theory that Copley square was not a parkway, nor any of the avenues running through it. But after the hearrunning through it. But after the hearings closed, and the corporation counsel of Boston, A. J. Bailey, who had said nothing during their progress, began to be consulted by the committee and to participate in the debates in executive session between the lawyers, there came a change. Although the counsel against the bill still scoffed, they showed not only a disposition to listen to suggestions of 100 feet, but to insist that whatever was done that parkway limitation should be repealed. This made one of the most interesting features of the controversy. The counsel included Hon. A. E. Pillsbury, ex-attorney general, who represented the chambers; Hon. Sherman Hoar, ex-district attorney for the United States; ex-Congressman S. the United States; ex-Congressman Z. Bowman and several able lawyers for the bills, who dropped out of sight after the hearings, with the exception of the chief petitioner, J. H. Benton, Jr. 1 seems to be pretty generally agreed th there is no particular use in limiting the height of buildings anywhere outsid height of buildings anywhere outside of Boston, yet the complications of the situation seemed to govern the committee in reporting that kind of a bill, which did not in any way mention Copley square or the 70-foot park limitation or the question of damages. The end of this controversy is yet a great way off.

As to the gas question, which eclipses all others in magnitude of interest, it becomes more clear every day that whatever remedial legislation is reported, if remedial legislation is needed or obtainable, must come from the committee on manufactures. There has been great excitement, and such work as never was to prevent anything unbeen great excitement, and such work as never was to prevent anything unfriendly being done to certain interests, but the gas commissioners are unyielding in their insistence that something shall be done to give them the right to interfere if they believe interference is for the public good, and also in urging that there be a full investigation of the transactions of the allied Boston gas interests, and it is hard to see how the legislature can ignore the situation entirely. It was rather a surprise party when the committee on rules of the house, but one member, Mr. McCarthy of Boston, dissenting, reported in favor of the suspension of the rules to admit petitions to repeal the charters of the Boston Gas Light company and the Massachusetts Pipe Line company. These petitions were put in by two Boston members in place of bills of leave, which they could not expect to see admitted upon so imnot expect to see admitted upon so important a subject of a quasi-public ms ture. The committee reported in favo of suspension, because its members fel that remedial legislation could be founded upon them better than upo any other petitions or bills before the general court. The idea was that some thing could be done as was done in the case of the Bay State Gas company few years since. At that time it was believed that the company had issue bonds which were against the interest of consumers, to the amount of severamillions, and so a bill was passed to repeat the charter, if, within a stipulstetime, that issue was not canceled. I an investigation by the committee or manufactures should develop the committee or manufactures should develop the committee. not expect to see admitted upon so manufactures should develop the con-ditions which are alleged by the gas ditions which are alleged by the gas commissioners, repeal bills might be passed containing conditions that they shall become operative if within a stated time certain obligations are not canceled and certain contracts running 50 years are not broken.

The question of prison labor had been thoroughly considered by the committee on prisons, and the result of their deliberations is that it would not be the wisest thing to employ convigts an building a canal across Cape Cod, which might be a failure when it was done, or which might make trouble for the Cape Codders in the shape of undestrable inhabitants, but that it will be of the greatest benefit if the state decides to follow a fixed policy of never letting convict labor compete with that of citizens except in the most limited way. For this reason the committee early in the sersion reported a bill to provide that so Iar as possible prisoners should be employed in making clothing and other articles used in state institutions. This of course prevents the use of goods made by free labor to some extent, but does not put convict made goods on the market. Then the committee worked out Secretary Pettigrove's plan to have the prisoners employed in some of the county jails in the work of breaking stone for macadamizing state and county roads. This swamps and who lands all about which may be cleared in the same way. It is pretty generally understood that free labor is too expensive for such work, so there will be no competition there, while a distinct service will be done if such land is reclaimed.

Meanwhile, the problem of the state control of county prisons, though reported adversely by the committee for the reason that it does not see any use in attempting to enact such legislation in the face of the united opposition of county officials, is held in abeyance, the bill being on the table, until the general question of state control of all penal institutions, because supported by a state tax, is passed upon by the committee on taxation, The latter committee has at last closed its hearings, and is now holding executive sessions of the various questions before it. Of course the report of the taxation commission is the questions before it. Of course the report of the taxation commission is the big problem, but there are many related to it, among them the question of laying an annual state tax for the support of the public schools, the question whether professors' houses owned by educational institutions shall be taxed, etc. The committee will do its best to report a general taxation measure which can be committee will do its best to report a general taxation measure which can be enacted, but there is a feeling that he legislature will make short work of it. There are too many taxation schools. The grangers are determined that the bills to exempt foreign stocks from taxation shall never go through, and probably they are strong enough to prevent it. On the other hand, the anti-double taxation people are very strong, and can prevent further legislation against them. There is no subject more tiresome to the average legislator than taxation, and if somebody makes a motion to refer the matter to the next general court it is pretty likely to go through. This will make many more weary weeks of hearings for the committee on taxation of next year. Chairman Washburn of the house and Senator Marwood, the head of the committee, are likely to work hard to get something passed in the way of legislation, but while the inheritance tax feature of the commission's report does not meet with very much opposition, the rental tax, to place a burden upon householders, is strongly opposed. It is hard to make the average man believe that he is not taxed double if he first pays a tax on his property and then another on its rental value above $400; and he naturally strucks is double taxation, it might as well be paid by the rich capitalist, as by the modest householder.

Apropos of the Cape Cod canal convict labor scheme, perhaps it would not retain the committee of the order of the order of the order of the cape Cod canal convict labor scheme, perhaps it would not general taxation measure which can

SAVINGS BANK A Woman's Heart.

The wife of a clergyman tells the story of her suffering with neuralgia of the heart, with the hope that her experience may indicate to others the way to regain

Few bodily afflictions are more terrible than heart disease. To live in constant dread and expectation of death, sudden, instant death, with last farewells unspoken, is for most people more awful to contemplate than the most severe ingering illaces. plate than the most severe lingering illaca.
The slightest excitement brings great suffering and danger to people so afflicted. Such was the experience of the wile of a well-known clergyman. She tells her story for the sake of doing good to others. "I feel," she said, speaking carefully and weighing her words, "that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People relieved me of a lifetime of sickness and sorrow, and I cheerfully recommend them."
This grateful woman is Mrs. Wamsley, wile of the Rev. C. E. Wamsley, who lives on West Sheridan Street, Greensburg, Ind. She continued:

on West Sheridan Sirect, Greenstong, inc.
She continued:
"My heart became affected after the birth of my youngest child, about six years ago.
"The pain was constant. Frequently it grew to severe I would be forced to cry out.
"I could not endure any excitement.
"It would increase the pain so I would scream and fall down in a state of collapse.
In this condition I was helpless. n this condition I was helpless.

"These spells would come on me at one, in the street, or anywhere I might be.

"I could not sleep at night. I are very

"The doctors treated me, but the relief they gave did not last.
"I was a physical wreck, when my eye fell on an item in the local paper describing how Mrs. Evans, of West End, had been cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Her suffering was like mine.
"I hope other sufferers who read this account will have the faith I had when I read of Mrs. Evans.
"My husband bought me one box of the pills. The change they made in my condition was encouraging. I took another box; then bought six more boxes.
"All the time I gained in health, strength, hope, nerve force—steadily, surely!
"Belore I linished the eighth bex I ceased the treatment. I felt perfectly well, and the doctor said I was entirely cured."
To add weight to her story Mrs. Wamsley made affidavit to its truth refore John F. Russell, a Notary Public of Greensburg, Neuralgia of the heart is only one of many serious evils that grow out of derangements of the nervous system of the blood. The remedy that expels impurities from the blood and supplies the necessary materials for rapidly rebuilding wasted rerve issues reaches the root of many serious diseases. It is these virtues that have given Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People their wonderful curative powers in diseases that at first glance seem widely different.

This famous remedy is fer sale by all druggists for 50 cents a box; or six boxes for $2550.

SYNOPSIS. Ada Ingot, the daughter of an East India Director, falls in love with Garrick, the famous actor, while witnessing his performances. Her father, wishing to cure her of her infatuation, invites Garrick to his house, and induces him to behave in a dissipated manner. The ruse succeeds, and Ada is so disenchanted that she consents to marry the man her father chooses. Afterwards she discovers that Garrick's dissipated behavior was only assumed and her love for him returns.

THE LEGISLATURE. Double Sessions and Efforts to Reach Prorogation.

Senate Not Expediting as Last Year

Guns of Militia, Etc. From Our Correspondent. And now come the double sessions and the frantic effort on the part of speaker, president, clerks and members to get through before the expiration of the limit of time which marked the prore gation last year. Every year efforts at made to cut down the record, and every year methods which serve to gain time in one direction are offset in others by a loss of time somewhere else. Outside of the discussions of the gas question which will doubtless consume time a which will doubtless consume time at the close of the session, the principal reason why no great amount of time will be gained this year is that there was more business suggested, and every pe-tition or bill, however innocent in its appearance, must be advertised for a hearing, and listened to with care, for the right to petition guaranteed under our constitution must be preserved. our constitution must be preserved, has, heretofore, been said that this year has seen a greater number of adverse reports than usual, and it is also true that the judgment of the committees is sustained better than is sometimes the case. Bills are not substituted, as a rule, by the legislature of 1898 without some very good reason, and it is the de-bate which goes with the substitution of a measure, followed by two other pe-riods of debate before engrossment in either branch, which consumes time. It is noticeable this year that the ser ate is not the body for expediting bus ate is not the body for expediting busihess that its predecessor was. It was the work of months to get the members of last year's senate to do anything else than to run through the calendar, and perhaps to put over a few measures.
The methods of this year's body are slower. More time is given to debate, and even now the sessions take up all the afternoon, with but slow progress.
This is not to the discredit of the senate. If its cause was traced it would probably be found that there is less buttonholing in the committee rooms and reading room, and that more matters are argued out on the floor to success or defeat. Trading is one of the features of legislation which cannot be entirely cilminated. It is so easy for a member who does not know anything of the merits of his neighbor's bill to say: "Til vote for your measure, if you will vote carried by eloquence in debate, for it would be a difficult thing to get around among 240 men and explain and pledge. This is easy in the senate, and there have been years when practically evcation meetings. The senate now has its full membership again. Hon. David B. Shaw of Charlestown has been elected to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Senator Hayes, and has taken his seat. It is indicative of the personal character of the feud which raged so many years in Charlestown between the Hayes and Corbett elements that Mr. Shaw, who has been Corbett's lieutenant for a long time, had only 90 votes against him in the special election. He is a young man of good promise, and who has the good will of the members of both parties. He will doubtless acquit himself creditably during his service.

The committee on military affairs of the legislature has come to the conclusion that there is too much fuss and son that there is too much fuss and feathers to the governor's military familitation of the commander'in-chief, as as to reduce the grades and make it; more compact body. Fortunately for the generals and cislonels now in servicine will be sent to the commander of the generals and cislonels now in servicine will applies to the nex one chosen. It is an adjust the present stant. But applies to the nex one chosen, of an adjustant general, who shall be chief of staff, and whose rank is not stated. General Dation is a major general, and the wisdom of not fixing the rank is evident, as it would not be pleasant to return the past. There are to be a surgeon general and inspector general, a commissary general, in the rank of brigadier general, a commissary general and six assistant adjustant general assistant general assistant general assistant general ass feathers to the governor's nylitary family and has reported a bill to readjust and with fine material in its ranks, there is still room for improvement in some particulars. Mr. Fredericks of Methuen thought of this when the rumors of war came, and so put in an order of inquiry as to the value of the ordnance with which our light artillery is supplied. The guns are 12-pounders, either used by our national armies or manufactured for them during the war. Possibly some of them were taken from the enemy. They are muzzle-loading Napoleons. At the first hearing given in the inquiry, Colonel Woodruff of Fort Warren expressed the opinion that the guns were obsolete, and that the state militia should have as good weapons as the regular army. The gun which the latter has for a field piece is a 3.2-inch brecch-loader. Major Reilley of the Watertown arsenal was put on the stand and took an entirely different view, it e said the Napoleon guns were not obsolete, but were carried on the books of the United States as effective, and that they would prove very effective as an anythars.

Proceedings in the gas investigation direction are going slow. The illness of Mr. Whitney, the projector of the whole pipe line system, has prevented the committee on manufactures from going at the work as speedily as it desired. There have been some to cricicize Mr. Whitney's methods, but there were few who did not feel sorry to learn that, just at the time when his business methods were being attacked, and the necessity of his being in full condition to defend himself, he should be ill. There are too many large enterprises in Massa-chusetts which are proofs of his ability to make the question immaterial whether or not he is able to carry through another. While no person wants to see him or any other man defy the laws, so long as the question remains open, and so long as the question remains of North Carolina, a heretofore dramatically unexplored region. The has the committee on manufactures of exceptional worth. Lemmel Jucklin, the character with which they have supplied Mr. Robson, is thoroughly unlike any thing he has hitherto attempted, and his treatment of it will doubtless be a surprise even to those who have admired him most, idging from the praise which it has elicited in other cities. His impersonation of "Old Lem" is said to be quaint and charming, with that touch of nature which has made the rural American drama so widely prosperous as well as deeply and truly artistic. "Lem" is a simple minded but clever headed, lovable, old m

There seems very little doubt that the effect of the architectural magnificence of the state house extension and the restored Bulineh state house has resulted in a great increase of the love of the beautiful in and about the building. There is a measure now pending which is expected to result in pumps and other apparatus which will make the fountains in front of the building play all day, and also which will decorate the dome and cupola at night with effective lines of electric lights. The dea was that of a Newton young lady, who had the help of the governor's private secretary. Mr. Perkins' in getting it to the attention of the architects of the front restoration. The legislature has finally granted the full sum asked. $200,000, for the work of exterminating the gypsy moth. There was the usual amount of sarcasm in-dulged in, but the majority of the mem-

Sick-poison is a poison which makes you sick. It comes from the stomach. The stomach makes it out of undigested food. The blood gets it and taints the whole body with it. That's the way fit.

The way to be rid of it is to look after your digest. there will be none left in the stomach to make sick poison out of.

If your stomach is too weak to see to this properly by itself, help it along with a few doses of Shaker Digestive Cordial.

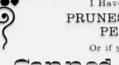

That's the cure of it.

Shaker Digestive Cordial is a delicious, healthful, tonic cordial, made of pure medicinal plants, herbs and wine.

It positively cures indigestion and prevents the formation of sick-poison.

Keith's Theatre.

Papinta, the famous myriad and drapery dancer, has captured Bostonions as never before, and the crowds who daily and nightly crowd Mr. Keith's popular continuous performance palace are enthusiastic in their applause of the artistic gyrations of this clever artist, and transported by the volume of light and brilliancy of coloring, which some enthusiastic writer has likened nnto a "whirlwind of sunseta."

Certainly one can see Papinta's dances a dozen or more times without tiring in the least. She will continue to be the stellar feature during the week of April 11. Mr. Charles Dickson and his comedy company are to present another new one-act play called "Jealousy," and Johnstone Bennett, the widely known and popular character comedienne will be seen for the first time in her this season's success, "American Types." These two features constitute an attraction in themselves. But there are lots of other clever people, as always, in cluding Paulinetti and Piquo, acrobatic comedians; George Thatcher and Ed. Many meadows and pastures are de-stroyed by bad management. The farmer is in too great a hurry to realize from his investment and does not give the grass at opportunity to become fully established, cattle being turned in to trample the field at a season when the ground is wet, or graze it closely when the land may be in need of rain.

CLARENCE P. WHITTLE, D. D. S. Stopped Short of Insanity.

> A young woman rescued in the nick of time from a fate more terrible than death. Her friends had despaired of saving her.

On the verge of insanity, Miss Hattie King, of Ithaca, N. Y., was checked in the course that was taking her rapidly to the grave, and restored to her friends in sound physical and mental health and the evidence that their eyes clearly showed them.

Miss King became greatly weakened by a complication of physical troubles, and was looked upon by her friends and family as one doomed to early death. Her stepfather, Charles M. Burnett, tells of her strange cure as follows:

"Hattie first complained of dizziness, which steadily grew worse.

"She suffered with nausea and attacks of vomiting; could keep but little on her stomach.

"Kidney disease attacked her. She was pale, thin, and her blood, when a drop was drawn by the prick of a needle, was almost as colorless as water.
"Her heart was affected. She would frequently faint from the slight exertion of rising from bed or from a chair.
"She coughed continually, so that her friends feared she was consumptive.
"She lost flesh rapidly; would be confined to her bed for two or three weeks at a time. Miss A. M. Rich,

"We feared she would have to be taken to an asylum for treatment.

"The best physicians and many coprietary dienters like to do her good.

"We had read of wonderful cures by Dr. Williams? Pink Pills for Pale People, and at length decided to give them a trial. We purchased some at the drug store of White & Burdick, in Ithaca.

"Soon after she began taking the pills Hattie began to improve. First her head-aches disappeared, then the attacks of dizziness ceased and the cough likewise disappeared. One after another the alarming symptoms left her.

"She gained steadily in weight and strength. The change for the better in body and mind is almost incredible. In all she has taken nine boxes of Dr. Williams? Pink Fills for Pale People, and now she is in perfect health."

Mr. Burnett swore to the accuracy of his account, formally, before C. R. Welcott, a Notary Public.

When the blood is weakened and lacks the elements needed to build up new tissues, body and mind both suffer, as in the case of Miss King. All of the many diseases due to derangements of the blood and nervous system are cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. They supply in vegetable form the elements that are lacking, and restore perfect health.

All druggists sell Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. One box for 50 cents, or six boxes for $2.50. of which has grown tiresome.

Then the Democratic dinner inner. Then the Democrate dumes assed, and now both parties meet together and politics are ignored except ti points where they are non-partisan. Indoubtedly this promotes union in the

There are picturesque features in some

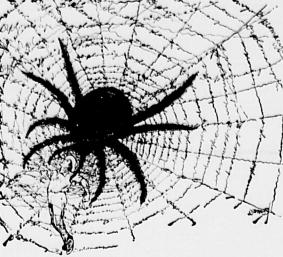

Senator Shaw we have had in a half dozen years.

The sergeant-at-arms has recently submitted figures to show how fluch money has been spent by the committees during the first three months of the year as compared with previous periods of the same duration. The amount spent was a little rising $8000, which was about $6000 less than was spent during the corresponding period last year, and much less than any previous year for some time. The committee on labor has been recause of the railroad systems crossing it, it was felt to be a matter of such intricacy and expense that year after year the matter has been referred to the succeeding general court. This year the drums because of the railroads and May-responding period hast year, and much less than any previous year for some superaive this year because it has been expensive this year because it has been six properties of the production of the public charitable institutions always have to spend a front of the public charitable institutions always have to spend a good deaf for traveling many institutions. There are various theories concerning the expenses of companies of the public charitable institutions always have to spend a good deaf for traveling and produced and the production of the public charitable institutions always have to spend a good earlier traveling and produced and the public charitable institutions always have to spend a good earlier traveling the expenses of companies of the production of

This year the novement for an investigation by the labor com-mittee originated with the labor people and, owing to the makeup of the com-mittee, the investigation is conducted in with a different suit. Senator Leach mittee, the investigation is conducted in quite a different spirit. Senator Leach of Palmer is the chairman of the committee. He is considered one of the fairest men in the legislature, and is a law yer of standing. The house chairman is Representative Ross of New Bedford, who has held the position for a number of years. He is national secretary of the spinners union, and of course has a great deal to do with the New Bedford strike. He is a Republican, as is Senator Leach, and for many years, notwithstanding his connection with organized labor, it has been the feeling that he was the best man for the position he holds. This year he has dropped into the background, for the reason that the found himself often addressed this year by the name of Johnson, and finally sought out the man who was serving as his double. Mr. Johnson of Worester is a mild-mannered member, with a pair of gold-bowed glasses resting on Pis nose. Mr. Brown also wears gold-bowed glasses. Mr. Johnson is analy moustache and hair to match. So has Mr. Brown. Mr. Johnson has a sandy moustache and hair to match. So has Mr. Brown. Mr. Johnson has a sandy moustache and hair to match. So has Mr. Brown. Mr. Johnson has a sandy moustache and hair to match. So has Mr. Brown. Mr. Johnson is move years since parted with all the hair which adorned the top of his head, which is now quite baid and shiny. Mr. Brown suffered the same experience. As one looks directly in their faces, he notes differences in expression, but the general resemblance is very striking, and it is accentuated by the habit the men have formed of being so often together. Mr. Denham of New Bedford and Mr. Trow of Salem, both small men, wearing gold-bowed glasses, moustaches tinged with gray and similar features, are often mistaken for one another/particularly as they sit together and are rather chummy.

As I remarked last week, the senate has returned to its habit of having a Senator Shaw, the Charlestown senator Shaw of Chelmsford, now in the executive council, came in. So this is the third Senator Shaw we have had in a half dozen years.

The sergeant-at-arms has recently summitted flugres to show how much money has been spent by the committees as compared with previous periods of the same duration. The amount spent was a little rising $5000, which was about a food of the same duration. The country paper! What a power it is in the world, notwithstanding its humble Monday tion. It really outnumbers all other classes of publications. It fills a larger place than one would imagine whose eyes never light upon any but the great news-papers of the East and the West. Country people are not reached by the papers of large cities, even in these days of rapid travel. The circulation of city rapid travel. The circulation of city papers in country towns is *comparatively small, and the local paper is the one in which they are naturally most interested; consequently, the local town or country paper is the very Lest for all advertising which is of a general nature.

For anything that commands trade outside of the city, the country papers are best; they are a business guide for the vertising is the fact that they are read. No vertising is the fact that they are read. No sooner does the daily or weekly paper arrive than the reading begins. From white-haired grandma, who remembers when the contents of shops were not all spread abroad in the paper, to Sue and Johnnie, who look for the children's column and the prices of toys and games, the paper, to all from health paper, to be a paper is read from health processor.

umn and the prices of toys and games, the paper is read from beginning to end, including the advertisements.

There are families who know the whole list of ads, and can tell exactly what and where to buy, where to get insured, which route to travel, and all about every sort of article and the prices, from needles and pins to houses and lands. We know this by actual experience, with these people in their homes; so do not underestimate the value of country journals. They reach the the state of the committee: people, and they do duty at more firesides than the metropolitan dailies ever can, because the great masses of the people who make up the population of the towns and villages do not see the great metropolitan pages.—Profitable Advertising.

The Best Novels of 1897.

At a recent meeting of the New York
Library Association and The New York Library Association and The New York Library Club a committee was appointed to go carefully over the works of fiction published in 1897, and make a list of those deemed worthy of permanent shelt room in public libraries. The books published were many, but those that came up to the committee's standard were few enough. They were only seven, and were the following: On the Facg of the Waters, by Mrs. F. A. Steel; St. Ives, by Robert Louis Stevenson; The Gadity, by E. L.
Voynich; School for Saints, by John Oliver Hobbs; Captains Courageous, by Rudyard Kipling; Hugh Wynne, Free Quaker, by Dr. S. Weir Mitchell; and The Choir Invisible, by James Lane Allen. Of these seven first-rate novels, three were first published serially; and of the three,

The captain's mind seemed to float away n this explanation, while flashes of alte nating feelings as of bodily pain or conflict-ing thoughts passed over his pule face. After a long and meditative silence his eyes opened again and directing his imeyes opened again and introduig in sim-pressive gaze aloft, exclaimed reverently: "God be praised!" Then turning his head and looking benignly upon the anxious faces beside him,—anxious as to what was in his mind and whether or not be was really better, he said: "I have called yo all together here for a most vital purpose all together here for a most vital purpose and it may seem strange to you to know that it has been largely accomplished since you came. For some time I have been distrusting my own mind, but I find it is right—'tis only the body that's weak. Listen to me while I orally review a chapter of life from the versathet has decreased. from the years that have flown, -a chapte from my life, and then Mr. Whatt may be pleased to entertain us with some items from the log-book of his memory. In the intensely memorable summer of 1s—I arrived with my ship at Quebec after a favoring passage from East India. My wife accompanied me and to us during the early part of the voyage had been born a son whom we named Paul, after a fast friend of mine,—your good father, Pauline. He was a precious, healthy little fellow with bright and shining eyes, and a perfect chernh. He was our presignate deliche cherub. He was our passionate delight. One day when about a year old he was cooing about on the cabin floor when door, left unsecured behind her by the door, left unsecured behind her by the stewarders, was violently swing by a heavy lurch of the ship and Paul's little arm was caught and fractured below the elbow. We carefully set and cared for it the best we could and in proper time it was useful as before. While lying at anchor in the St. Lawrence river my Lost Years of Youth.

James H. Wallace could have paid $3,000 for the information contained in the following lines, and been a gainer by the purchase. His experience, which cost dearly, given freely to others.

If the information contained in the following lines had been in the possession of James H. Wallace, of Detroit, Mich., he would have saved more than $3,000 and would have saved more than $3,000 and would have enjoyed five years of health and happiness, instead of torture.

Mr. Wallace is an expert accountant and bookkeeper, in the office of C. A. Haberkorn & Co., Detroit. He lives with his family in a pretty home at 240 Sixth Street. He was marked by misfortune from his birth, having inherited scrotula.

Still a young man, Mr. Wallace seemed, as he told his story, to have a long life of vigorous health and usefulness before him. He tells about the remarkable incident that led to his complete restoration as follows:

"The first physician soon said I had a constitutional blood disorder, and by constant treatment and diet it might be cured!

"Blood purifiers and spring medicines made the eruptions more aggressive and made the eruptions more aggressive and painful. In 1888 I was a fearful looking sight; in fact, repulsive. "Large ulcers on my limbs discharged "Large ulcers on my limbs discnarged continuously,

"I tried everything; took medical baths; went to Medicine Lake, Washington; spent over $3,000 for medicine and medical service—all wasted money, time and energy,
"My recovery seems like a miracle to me. Its beginning seems like romance. It was as follows:
"One day in the fall I read a newspaper article about a cure effected by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. It interested me, but I quickly forgot it.

"That afternoon while moving some books I broke an ulcer on my leg and nearly fainted,
"The pain made me sick. I stopped work and dropped into a chair.
"Then I again saw that newspaper article. The paper was lying on the floor, the article exposed as though forcing me to take warning.

"I read it through again carefully and decided to give the pills a fair trial. The cure described in the paper was like my cure described in the paper was like my own case.

"I sent for a box of the pills at once and took some that afternoon.

"From that day I began to mend.

"When one box was finished my friends remarked upon my improved looks.

"Eight boxes cured me completely—there was not a sore left on my body."

Mr. Wallace made affidavit to the truth of his story before Robert E. Hull, Jr., a Notary Public.

Thousands of similar cases illustrate the unequalled power of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People over disease of the blood and nerves. No blood disease has been discovered that can withstand the action of their powerful vegetable ingredients, which harmlessly expel the impurities that cause disease. All druggists sell Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People; one box 50 cents, six boxes, $2.50.

COMMISSIONERS' HEARING.

Strong Case Put in by the Petitioners.

The Need of a Widening Demonstrated By An Abundance of Corroborative Evidence.

Pursuant to notice the County Commis-sioners' hearing came off on Saturday at 10 o'clock in Kelley's hall, East Braintree. nan Blanchard, Wadsworth and Hewins man Bianchard, Wadsworth and Hewins, and in business-like promptness the chairman opened the meeting by asking Judge Flint, the consul for the petitioners to open the hearing by reading the petition and order, after which the Commissioners went out and viewed the street under consider ation. This done the witnesses in favor were sworn.

Judge Flint made an opening address, containing many strong reasons for the commercial street where the old brick store stands. The judge knew his case well, he being the counsel some eight years ago, when the same improvement years ago, when the same improvement now asked for was attempted, and when the Commissioners, instead of cutting off the corner as asked for, ordered the cutting off of some of the ledge on the opposite side on Quincy avenue which did not relieve the situation materially.

Town Clerk of Braintree Henry A. Monk testified as to the vote at the town meeting, when the town voted in favor of a syste-matic widening and furnished a certified copy of the vote.

John V. Scollard, the leading petiti

John V. Scollard, the leading petitioner was the next witness and testified to the fact that the corner was daugerons to public travel, that the street was very narrow, that he had no personal interest except for the public good as he lived some distance from Commercial street, that he considere it very inalequate for the large travel with many lumber and coal teams.

J. F. Sheppard testified that he was a large travpayer and a coal dealer, that about 30,000 tons of coal were sold from the wharves near by, a large part of which was carted through the narrow place in question. As the leading petitioner some eight years ago he had thought it needed to be widened then and he still thought it been defeated and the money then ex-pended had been spent on the opposite side from what the petitioners asked for which had made Quincy avenue a better street but had not relieved the dangerou and narrow place.

A. L. Hobart testified in corroboration of all that had been said and thought the street in front of Miss Jordan's should be made wider as teams and bicycles ofte turned into his yard to wait for others

Dr. G. D. Bullock said he drove by the old brick store corner a number of times every day and almost always had to hau up for fear of an accident. He testified to strending the two doctors who had been smashed up there about a year ago and were severely injured.

William Orr testified that on Thursday, a cold and cloudy day, when there was no a cool and cloudy day, when there was no pleasure travel he had counted the teams that passed the corner from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. and found the number of teams, cars and bicycles to be 659 or practically one a minute for the 11 hours. In the summer this would be heavily increased. There was more travel through that narrow street than at any place in the vicinity be majority; he was one of the former petioners: thought there was more trave now than then. now than then.

A. E. Avery was a good witness for the petition and made a strong argument in favor. He thought the street in front of Mrs. Hobart's was in great need of repairs and was dangerously narrow; he corroborated much that had been said about the old brick store corner and added the weight of his opinion that it should be made suitable for the great travel at that Geo. Fogg gave strong testimony from the standpoint of a heavy teamster and told how he had been in danger there several times when carrying heavy loads; he always dreaded that corner and hill as he could not stop a load of many tons which he often had and had several narrow which he often had and nas several arrow escapes from crushing light carriages. Night Officer Dugan told of the many quick pull-ups he had witnessed there in the night when teams had come together around the corner, it being impossible to see. He also testified to the great number of bicycles that were seen there on summer evenings.

Charles T. Crane, treasurer of the Sav-Charles T. Crane, treasurer of the Savings Bank added his testimony and made many points in favor of the widening. He walked by the corner, four times or more daily and had seen many narrow escapes from collision and teams drive on to the sidewalk repeatedly. Had also noticed how frequently teams were standing at one or other of the stores, partially blocking the way.

Ansel O. Clark, chairman of the selectmen, said he lived in the South part of the town and was not very familiar with the travel on that street. He was selectman when the former petition was acted upon.

travel on that street. He was selectman when the former petition was acted upon. He thought that from the evidence given there seemed to be need of a widening and thought that the electric road had made the place worse than before. Although Mr. Clark was very conservative in his replies he was evidently in sympathy with a proper improvement but thought it not necessary to make a 60-foot street all the way to Union street. Front of Miss Jordan's and Mrs. Hobart's he thought 45 or at most 50 feet would be sufficient. Mrs. at most 50 feet would be sufficient. Mr. Clark made a very good impression from his evident attempt to be fair to the peti-tioners and yet guard carefully the interests of the town. He answered questions from Judge French regarding the town debt and the tax rates of several years past, showing that the rate had dropped about $3 on a thousand from what it was leaf and that the play is quite as strong an attraction now as at any time in its history was shown by the remarkable success attending its production by the Castle Square Theatre Company in May of last year when it made one of the earliest preentations of this company. "Rosedale" will be followed on Monday, May 2d, by the famous old play, "East Lynne." At next Wednesday's matinee, the souvenir will be a portrait of Mr. Charles Mackay.

William Mayhew, selectman from Brain-tree said he could add but little to what the does not had been said but he thought the improvement should be made.

John F. Dwyer, postmaster, and formerly a teamer, and expressman, told his views of the street and of what should be done. He corroborated the evidence and the could add but little to what had been said but he thought the improvement should be made.

John F. B. Allen, fan manufacturer in East

Braintree, gave a story of the difficulties of light driving as he used his bugzy to drive back and forth to his home in Weymouth. He often had to pull up at that point and had had some narrow escapes when he prided himself that he had driven through very narrow holes between two teams, or a team and a car.

Other corroborative testimony was given and many more witnesses were present for the petition who did not speak, because there seemed no need of more repetition, Judge Asa French of South Braintree had cross-questioned most of the witnesses.

was Amos W. Stetson who argued that the old brick store was no more a menace to public travel than any building on any corner and that the road was sufficient for the travel which was not as much now as when he was a boy and the stage coaches used to come by there without trouble with four and six horses, from Plymouth and New Bedford. He represented his aunt, Mrs. Hill and made a long argument there seemed no need of more repetition, Judge Asa French of South Braintree had cross-questioned most of the witnesses.

During the testimony for the petition Judge Asa French of South Braintree had cross-questioned most of the witnesses. When the opposition was called for Mr. French arose and said be appeared there as an individual, a citizen of Braintree, but thought the represented the wishes of a great many citizens of the town of Braintree. He admitted that the proposed improvement would be a good thing if it did not cost the town anything. Taxes were the property of the town at this time with the proposed of the town at this time with the expense of such an improvement. He said that while the vote in favor of the widening at the town meeting was a large one, that it was easy to get the public to sign petitions and to vote for things that alid not cost the average voter much in taxes, and he thought the tax payers of the town were opposed to any expense in this matter this year with a rate of over $180 on the thought the tax payers of the town were opposed to any expense in this matter this year with a rate of over $180 on the thought the tax payers of the town were opposed to any expense in this matter this year with a rate of over $180 on the throught the tax payers of the town were opposed to any expense in this matter this year with a rate of over $180 on the term of the property of the town and the property of the town and the property of the town and the property of the town were opposed to any expense in this matter that year with a rate of over $180 on the term of the property of the town and the property of the town and the property of the town were opposed to any expense in this matter that had been such that the property of the town the property live and die and are thrown into the rive

So remarkable are the facts; so strongly are they substantiated; so important are they to all who are suffering, that there is no necessity of publishing them under the disguise of news or other false colors.

Saved her when eminent physicians failed; when the pharmacopoeia was exhausted; when science acknowledged defeat.

took them home to her. Before she had taken all of the first box we noticed a change for the better.

"She gained strength daily.
"Breyo one noticed the change: I bought two more boxes. When she had taken them she was strong enough to leave her bed, and in less than six months was something like herself.

"To-day she is entirely cured, and is a big, strong, healthy girl, weighing 130 pounds, and has never had a sick day since.
"I know Dr. Williams' Pink Pills saved my daughter's life and I am glad to recommend them to the world."

To further verify this statement Mr. Trout made affidavit to its truthfulness before Robert E. Hull, Jr., Notary Public. The last decade of the nineteenth century has been marked by some of the most important discoveries in the history of the world. None have done more to benefit mankind than Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Some of the cures effected by this wonderful remedy almost equal the miracles of old. Dieases long supposed incurable have succumbed to their potency. The paralyzed have walked; the weak and ailing have stepped from their beds well and strong. The evidence is irrefutable. The fact stands supreme that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the greatest blessing ever bestowed on suffering humanity.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by druggists throughout the land. he tells the world his story that others may be benefited.

"At the age of fourteen" said Mr. Trost, "we had to take our daughter from school owing to her health. She began to fall away and became pale and languid. She was so weak she would fall down every time she tried to walk unsupported. "When she was fifteen she weighed only ninety pounds.
"She was actually fading away.
"Several physicians said she might out grow it, but that it would no doubt terminals for consumption. graw II, but that it would nake in consumption.

"She was growing weaker every day; we concluded we must lose our child.

"The medical profession had exhausted their skill, we had tried all the well known remedies. Finally I bought a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and

A Letter from MRS. ALDEN A. THORNDIKE.

SHANGHAI, March 20, 1898. A proper description of China should be a proper description of clima should be-gin with one's impression of the beautiful harbor of Hong Kong. Precedent clearly shows this, but truth and order would both be sacrificed were I to follow where others lead. Truth compels me to admit that the harbor simply did not, at first, exist for me, while order demands that I begin with the while order demands that I begin with the Monsoon, which meeting us five hundred miles out at sea, was plainly the first of things Chinese with which we had to do. The anchor had dropped with its usual splash, dragging after it the groaning lengths of protesting cable, before, dizzy from a twenty-four hours interview with from a twenty-four nours interview with that most obdurate of creditors, Neptune, I emerged once more into the outer air. After having passed across most of the old gentleman's domains with a smile and a jaunty air, under the impression that I was a personal favorite of his, I discovered my a personal lavorite of his, I discovered my mistake, and was obliged to pay unto the uttérmost, principal and interest both simple and compound. Let no one imagine it possible to slip around this world and in some mysterious manner elude the vigilance of the old sea god cerned next morning. Hills everywhere, the highest of them keeping guard over the town nestling at its foot and creeping lovingly up its side. Most of the streets begin at the water's edge, and after a seemingly fair start, come to a sudden end among the greenery of the mountain. The English residents have the Peak as it is called, and it is the height of every one's mbition to add another to the charming homes already smiling down upon the lovely scene beneath. In the meantime a monster hotel on the summit swings wide hospitable doors to gather them all in,—be they would-be owners of palatial villas still on paper, or the strangers within the

If it were not for the people, there is nothing about Hong Kong to suggest that one had alighted at the threshold of that strange Empire, which, in our world, but scarcely of it, is so much an enigma to the scarcely of it, is of much an enigma to the rest of us. But then there are the people! Swarms of them! One need not, however, go into the busy crowd of flying rickshaws, flower boys, fruit boys, women, dressed almost precisely like their husbands in wide blue cotton trousers and flowing blouses, and funny little children, for one's introduction to John Chinaman. One meets him "en masse" in the dining room where two hundred of him are rushing er's frocks, with pig-tails of unbelievable lengths. For all the world like a graven by number, unless one be an adept at 'pigeon" English. This consists in omitting all superfluous words and eeing the remainder. For example, I order number 7, which is roast beef. Having been de-prived of this article of food for three

One is fairly safe with a well-known guide, for they have the reputation of fighting like tigers in the interest of their charges. However, if there was danger, we were unaware of it. Wherever we penetrated, and certainly there were many vile and evil places, we met no opposition. Many remarks flew over our heads, but these we could not understand, so they were harmplaces, we met no opposition. Finally marks flew over our heads, but these we could not understand, so they were harmless. Eight hours were we in those chairs, and the sights we saw defy description. We visited the temples, the schools, the colleges, the shops (once inside, the latter were decidedly attractive) and the prison to see the poor creatures wearing the terrible wooden collar, which is said to bill a man if worn three months. We had our luncheon in the Viceroy's Picnic "Gar-den," a rambling structure in the midst of queer little artificial lakes and gardens, be-hind high walls. Store known as the Hobart Store, near the Depot, is going to be a being bitterly cold and a drizzling rain we had the place to ourselves. The cos coom we selected, with its carved furni-are, lamps and vases, seemed a haven in-leed, and when to our plentiful store of sent in from some mysterious source, con taining three little cups and saucers and a plump little teapot valiantly puffing fra-grant steam, our happiness was complete. We climbed the ramparts for a view of the rain swept country, that mysterious country leading far away to the little

We paid an interesting visit to the Five

Also we went to the Temple of Tortures, where brisk little wooden devils were industriously at work over woe-begone wooden efficies, boiling some in oil, slicing others, crashing, beheading steeloking. War is no longer to be avoided, and business is somewhat contracted by bankers' apprehensions. It is hardly to be supposed flaving, impaling the rest. This seemed to be a favorite resort with the most villain-ous of the townsfolk. As there were in-cense sticks all about, I suppose they hope to induce the demons to let the oil cool a defeat.

The gratitude of the father overbalances the natural conservatism of the man, and he tells the world his story that others may be benefited.

"At the age of fourteen" said Mr. Trost, "we had to take our daughter from school owing to her health. She began to fall away and became pale and languid. She was so weak she would fall down every time she tried to walk unsupported.

VOL. XXXII. NO. 4.

A Letter from MRS. ALDEN A. THORNDIKE.

SHANGHAI, March 20, 1898.

A proper description of China should be-gin with one's impression of the beautiful harbor of Hong Kong. Precedent clearly shows this, but truth and order would both be sacrificed were I to follow where others lead. Truth compels me to admit that the barbor simply did not, at first, exist for me, while order demands that I begin with the Monsoon, which meeting us five hundred took them home to her. Before she had taken all of the first box we noticed a change for the better.

"She gained strength daily.
"Every one noticed the change: I bought two more boxes. When she had taken them she was strong enough to leave her bed, and in less than six months was something like herself.
"To-day she is entirely cured, and is a big, strong, healthy girl, weighing 130 pounds, and has never had a sick day since. miles out at sea, was plainly the first of things Chinese with which we had to do. big, strong, neathry grir, weighing 130 pounds, and has never had a sick day since.

"I know Dr. Williams' Pink Pills saved my daughter's life and I am glad to recommend them to the world."

To further verify this statement Mr. Trout made affidavit to its truthfulness before Robert E. Hull, Ir., Notary Public.

The last decade of the nineteenth century has been marked by some of the most important discoveries in the history of the world. None have done more to benefit mankind than Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Some of the cures effected by this wonderful remedy almost equal the miracles of old. Diseases long supposed incurable have succumbed to their potency. The paralyzed have walked; the weak and ailing have stepped from their beds well and strong. The evidence is irrefutable. The fact stands supreme that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the greatest blessing ever bestowed on suffering humanity.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by gentleman's domains with a smile and a jaunty air, under the impression that I was a personal favorite of his, I discovered my mistake, and was obliged to pay unto the uttérmost, principal and interest both sinaple and compound. Let no one imagine it possible to slip around this world and in some mysterious manner clude the vigilance of the old sea god.

Most of the streets begin at the water's edge, and after a seemingly fair start, come to a sudden end among the greenery of the mountain. The English residents have the Peak as it is called, and it is the height of every one's ambition to add another to the charming monster hotel on the summit swings wide

One traces the hand of the pirate here. Going ashore was impossible for an hour or two until our friends below disembarked into the hundreds of grubby little sampans which bumped and jostled us while the which dumped and jostical us while they pushed and crowded, and tore at each other's throats, as it were, in a mad rush for passengers. Whole families, thou-sands, live on these tiny boats, are born, live and die and are thrown into the river. They are the lowest of the low, and Incy are the lowest of the low, and in China that depth is almost unsounded. At Hong Kong they must moor their sampans so many yards from the shore at night. Perhaps Canton might be a safer place if the same rule held there. As it is, no one is safe outside the city gates after five colock at night.

We visited the temples, the schools, the colleges, the shops (once inside, the latter were decidedly attractive) and the prison to see the poor creatures wearing the terrible wooden collar, which is said to kill a man if worn three months. We had our luncheon in the Viceroy's Picnie "Garden," a rambling structure in the midst of queer little artificial lakes and gardens, behind high walls. Owing to the weather, it being bitterly cold and a drizzling rain, we had the place to ourselves. The cosy room we selected, with its carved furniture, lamps and vases, seemed a haven in ture, lamps and vases, seemed a haven indeed, and when to our plentiful store of eatables was added a tiny wadded basket, sent in from some mysterious source, containing three little cups and saucers and a plump little teapot valiantly puffing frathly start our bappiness was complete. nothing about Hong Kong to suggest that one had alighted at the threshold of that plump little teapot valiantly puffing fragrant steam, our happiness was complete. We climbed the ramparts for a view of the rain swept country, that mysterious country leading far away to the little-known regions beyond.

We paid an interesting visit to the Five Hundred Genii, disciples of Buddha, who sit and stand in gilded rows forever, while an admiring, or fearing, or worshipping, public, place little incense sticks before their gilded noses. The most interesting of the Five Hundred was the geni "who placed the moon in the sky." This perplaced the moon in the sky." This per-sonage had one arm greatly elongated for the purpose. It ran up somewhere towards the roof, the moon wasn't visible.

Also we went to the Temple of Tortures, where brisk little wooden devils were in-

BOSTON INDUSTRIAL EXHIBI-TION.

It is Promised That It Will Excel Given in New England.

The twentieth triennial exhibition of the the same rule held there. As it is, no ene is safe outside the city gates after five o'clock at night.

It was with a delightful sense of real adventure, with a spice of canger in it, that we stepped into a dirty crowd upon a dirty jetty, and quickly taking our seats in chairs hung on bamboo poles, were lifted to the shoulders of our coolies (three for each of us) and began our exploration of Canton, ander the direction of our guide, Ah Cum.

Massachusetts Charitable Mechanics Association will be held in their mammoth building, Huntington avenue, during the months of October and November next. It is promised thus far in advance that this exhibition will far surpass anything of the kind ever given in New England, as the applications of inventors, manufacturers, and others engaged in industrial development and improvements, already received, guarantee the assertion that the commodi-Massachusetts Charitable Mechanics Ass could not understand, so they were harmless. Eight hours were we in those chairs, and the sights we saw defy description.
The town is a labyrinth of six feet alley down again, ever bridges above canals green with slime, and past heaps of loathsome, terrible filth. There are open drains to all the gotters, and down many of the n all the gutters, and down many of the louse fronts, while filthy rags and tatters of straw matting stretched overhead keep out what small portion of pure air might Alter through.

If National Guard organizations are desirious of enlisting for the war they have in the opportunity to do so, but there is no compulsion put upon them, and hence they have no cause for complaint. If any member is prevented from going by duties or engagements at home which he cannot neglect without undue sacrifice, he can decline to go, and at this time no suffering to the nation will result. Outside of the National Guard the full quota can be made up easily, and such volunteers can be trained in the cause, where their whole time will be gauge, where their whole time will be Guardanen should be given forthwith, and complaints, quibbling, and all attempts at exactions in their particular favor should cease.

What the nation needs is the full force of volunteers called for, and it wants them to go wherever they are sent and however they are sent, as soldiers obedient to command. It cannot grant peculiar favors to any part of them because of more or less fanciful social conditions or proficiency in elementary drill, and it wants none by whom such discrimination is expected. Compaint in the National Guard of the methods established by the War Department or a disposition to insist on special conditions of enlistment only provokes discussion prejudicial to the quick success of the freerniting which is so essential.

Music on the Graphophone

Few people appreciate the marvellous powers of the graphophone as an entertainer. It is an instrument which, though it costs much less than the least expensive musical instrument, will enable its owner to have at pleasure music of any kindfrom that of a bagpipe to that of a grand military band. It reproduces vocal selections and gives one command of every pleasure that appeals to the sense of hearing. No investment pays such large returns in pleasure. Besides reproducing the musical and other records made for entertainment purposes, the graphophone will record immediately and reproduce at once and as often as is desired, your own words or song, or any sound. V. The war has so far been a rather desultory sort of an affair. We hope it will be pushed to a speedy termination. The president has all the powers vested in him that Congress can give and the country looks to the administration for vigorous action. Let the world understand that when Uncle Sam rolls up his sleeves he means business.

A peaceable blockade of Cuba may starve the Spaniards. It will starve the people the war was started to help also. It looks as if the case of the reconcentralos was more hopeless than ever just now.

He was very much afasid until be thought that the enemy had as much reason to be afraid as he and was as likely to act with great caution. Probably now the Spaniards on the coast of Spain are as fearfal of an attack as we are and will keep many of their ships in home waters for defense. It would be no great object for the United States to send ships to Spain to United States to send ships to Spain to simply destroy property and it can be of no benefit to Spain to pursue such a policy and the more so, from the fact that any vessels she should send against our coast would be likely to be gobbled up or desired. DEATH OF GRANVILLE THOMPSON.

Sunday morning after an illness of several weeks, aged 67 years, 7 months, and by his death the town losses one of its most upright citizens. Mr. Thompson had a very large circle of friends, who sincerely mourn his loss. Mr. Thompson had been in poor health for several years but had been able to attend to business up to within a few weeks. Deceased was always ready to help anyone in need, and many will remember his charitable acts. Years ago he conducted an express business but for the last quarter of a century had carried on the jewelry business. Before entering business for himself he was for many years associated with the late Asa Trufant.

In 1452 he was united in marriage to Sarale E. Burrelt, daughter of Jesse and the late Sarah Gardner Burrell, who survives him.

Deceased was a member of the Weymouth Agricultural and Industrial Society and the Weymouth Business Men's Club. The funeral took place Wednesday afternoon from the First Universalist Church and the edifice was filled with the friends and late business associates of the deceased, Rev. -Next Sunday at the Congregational Church the morning service will be in keeping with the times. The pastor, Rev. Daniel Evans, will preach the sermon, taking as his theme, "War." The music, under the direction of Charles II. Newton, with Howard M. Dow at the organ, will be of a patriotic nature, and beside the usual numbers given, the following special selections will be rendered "To thee O Country," (Eichberg): "Lift thine eyes," (Mendelssonn); "Usion and Liberty," (F. Grand Banquet, Pleasant Hour and Social Dance.

Crescent Lodge No. 82, I. O. O. F., of East Weymouth added another to its long list of successful social events Treeday night. The occasion was the annual social gathering of the order to which they invite their families and friends, and three hundred and more people graced the occasion with their presence.

The affairwas in charge graced the occasion with their presence.

The affairwas in charge was held from 63 to 7,15 occase when aline was formed and those in attendance at the time repaired to the banquet room where a flue near was served by Catterr Tufts of Boston. After an hour's discussion of the viands spread, the party, which had been largely augmented, assembled in the andience room and listened to a fine entertainment under the direction of N. G., French. The talent of the evening was Miss Maude Townsend, soprano soloist; Miss Tinker, reader, from Emerson School of Oratory; and "Dan" Haley.

Miss Townsend was in fine voice and gave the "Serenade to Juniter" and "Peace My Heart" at each of which the audience gave a hearty approval and encores followed, the last of which was the Star Spangled Banner, which in view of the time aroused more than the usual cheering.

Miss Tinker is a reader of pleasing voice and manner, and her selections, "Timothy's Quest" and "Bit of Village Gossip" added to the esteem in which she was already belt as a good entertainer.

Mr. Haley as usual moved the audience with his specialities and received as usual the "Come again, Danny."

Albert Wilder was plano accompanist for the cccasion and also presided at the plano in the music furnished for a most pleasing series of dances which followed the other entertainment, and as the small hours of another day drew near, the party broke up pronouncing the '88 event of Crescent Lodge a most enjoyable episode.

The "Cabinet Member's Wife."

The authorship of the much-discussed 'Inner Experiences of a Cabinet Member's Wife," printed in The Ladlies' Home Journal, will be revealed in the June issue of that magazine, when the name of Anna Farquhar will appear as the author. It is surmised that the domestic experiences described in these letters were those of Mrs. W. H. H. Miller, wife of the Attor-ney-General in President Harrison's Cabi-net—since Miss Farquhar is known to be a personal friend of the Miller family, and have spent considerable time with then in Washington during their official resistence there. The author of these letters was born and raised in Indianapolis, in neighborly relations with the Harrison and Miller families, but for ten years past she has lived a studious professional life in New York, London and Boston. She is now connected with the editorial staff of The Boston Transcript. In addition to her "Cabinet Member's Wife" letters she has published one novel—"A Singer's Heart"-and another one is about to be issued. She is a young woman, exceed-ingly clever, and only her closest friends have known her connection with the Washington letters which have attracted such wide attention. Everypoor Says So. Keith's Theatre.

Positively one of the very best shows which Mr. Keith has ever offered his Boston patrons is that to be given the week of May 2. It would be positively unfair to sincle out any one turn as the best for ingle out any one turn as the best, for here are at least a dozen that will rank equally in the estimation of the majority of playgoers. Papinta, who has been going stronger the longer she remains, is an-nounced to introduce some startling novel light and color effects in her dances, in adtion to those which already make her ap pear like a moving rainbow, and every-bedy will want to see her. Joe Hart and Carrie De Mar continue for another week, their "Quiet Mr. Gay" having made the, biggest kind of a bit, and Binns and Binns, comedy musicians, are likewise conthe comedy musicians, are likewise com-plimentéd. In the new detail, however, there is Mary Norman, the cleverest delin-eator of certain character types that there is on the stage, a most thorough artist; Hilda Thomas, the popular singing sou-brette, in an entirely new act, assisted by Frank Barry, pianist; Fred Valmore, known the country over as the human music box, because of his singular imita-tions; Joe Cawthorne, noted comedian and concertina soloist, a dialect joker who has tions; Joe Cawthorne, noted comedian and concertina soloist, a dialect joker who has no superior; Louise Truax, the talented whistling soloist; Cook and Senora, eccentric acrobats, and Cook and Clinton, the famous rifle and revolver experts. New views in the biograph, new pictures by Prof. Gies and a new song in the songsheet are also announced, as usual. This is really an entertainment worth going a long.
